clarity from complexity
an introduction

children

If you have children, it is natural to worry about the impact that separation or divorce can have on them. The specialist services I provide will help to introduce a financial focus, so that you can achieve what you want for your children now and for their future.

housing

When couples separate, the question of housing is often the most challenging to answer. I will help you to understand the options and get the right advice. Now is not the time to rely on assumptions, you must arm yourselves with the right information and take the time to understand it, before you make decisions.

finance

You might feel ill-equipped to deal with elements of the negotiations for a financial settlement. I will gather the relevant information for you and explain it to you in a straightforward way. I will help you to explore the options that are open to you, so that you can achieve a settlement that makes sense to you.

future

The process of separation or divorce can often feel like an obstacle course, with a series of hurdles to overcome. If you do not have an idea of what lies beyond the finishing line, how will you negotiate your way towards it effectively? I will help you to look forward: to what you want; what you need.

Knowledge is a process of piling up facts; wisdom lies in their simplification
